Diwali will be fun

Oh, this weekend will be extremely hectic as we have to plan our post-holiday teaching and academic schedules before GNLU closes for Diwali. Besides the academic meetings on Saturday, I will also be working on my book and other research projects. But I have kept aside Sunday from my diary as a day for family and some Diwali shopping. Diwali is just days away and we plan to go shopping for everything - diyas, crackers - and also new clothes for me. As I plan to spend the vacation with my parents at Khadol in Dhandhuka, I will buy sweets, crackers and Diwali gifts for all of them and make the festival of lights all the more exciting and fulfilled. It is a time I look forward to!
