

GNLU Aims to Become Research-Based Varsity: Initiates In-House Research and Consultation with Subject Experts

DNA : Daily News & Analysis

August 9, 2012

With beginning of new academic session, Gujarat National Law University (GNLU) has decided to incorporate research as a major factor in its pedagogy.

Each faculty of GNLU has prepared course outline, and devised a syllabus based on their first in-house research and consultation with experts from across the country, said Bimal Patel who is director of the university.

The syllabus of each subject includes leading judgments, legislations, and pending bills at national and state-level for purpose of reference and better understanding. ...