

GNLU student bags Rhodes Scholarship:

Hatim Hussain, a final year student at Gujarat National Law University (GNLU) has been selected for Rhodes Scholarship 2020. The century-old scholarship enables outstanding young students from across the globe to study at University of Oxford including university and college fees, annual stipend and travel expenses. Hatim is one of the five Indian scholars selected for the scholarship and second from GNLU. University officials said that Hatim will pursue Bachelor of Civil Law followed by DPhil as part of the scholarship. "His research interests focus on regulatory innovation, more specifically in bringing together interdisciplinary fields of law, finance and technology to address issues of financial exclusion, poverty and inequality," said a faculty member.