THE GUJARAT National Law University (GNLU) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS) Mumbai on December 11 to strengthen academic collaboration.

"The MoU will promote academic collaboration between two institutions and facilitate student exchange, faculty exchange for teaching and research, collaborative research and publication, organising training programmes, conference, seminars, symposia, and workshops, and developing other mutually beneficial programs. Besides, PhD scholars of both institutions will now have access to library and faculty resources of each other," said a GNLU press release.

The MoU will be valid initially for five years, which can be extended by mutual agreement. GNLU Director S Shanthakumar said, "We believe that synergies can be created with increased collaboration among academia... I am sure the MoU between GNLU and TISS will lead to increased collaboration benefiting the students and faculty of both the institutions."
